about us

Cloud accounting is the future. It's the ability to manage your enterprise financials from anywhere. You will experience freedom from the need to back up your desktop files. The concern of outdated reports is gone. Most of all, you will have beautiful financial reports that enable you to make decisions on the fly.

What is Remote CPA?

Remote CPA is an accounting firm focused on serving home builders and businesses anywhere in the United States. We leverage cloud-based technology and virtual meetings to provide value monthly accounting services without taking precious resources away from the organization's main mission.

Given the specialized needs of accounting and financial reporting, it's most efficient if you outsource tasks to a specialist firm like Remote CPA. We're incredibly efficient at what we do because we serve a variety of similar clients. That means the quality of our work is higher than a part-time employee, we are more knowledgeable, and we can offer the best value prices given our economies of scale.

Since everything we do is cloud based, we have unlimited control over who has access to it. For Boards who have been criticized for not being transparent enough, our cloud-based tools will allow for access from multiple Board members at the same time. On the flip-side, for things that need to stay secure and confidential, we can limit access to only those who need it. QuickBooks Online Plus is a great platform to have up to five users who can review all accounting transactions.
